

Comment on Docket 13-86

April 30, 2013

I would like to express my concern about the liberalization of rules that seek to prevent indecent speech or other content on television using broadcast frequencies licensed by the FCC.

I do not believe there should be any tolerance whatsoever for the use of words like “fuck”, “shit” or other obscene utterances. Similarly, there should be no display of unclothed sexual organs in any context, even if “brief” or “fleeting”. I support heavy fines, in excess of $1 million per incident and license revocation for repeat offenders (more than 2 times in one year). The fine for the second offense should be at least $100 million dollars.

The Supreme Court has confirmed the FCC's authority to enforce policies regarding expletives and nudity, especially during times when children are likely to be watching or listening.

Relaxing the current policy would not serve the public interest and I urge the FCC to reject all proposals that would allow for the broadcast of expletives and nudity on FCC-licensed stations.

Thank you for your consideration.
